

Class Capacity	Maximum 20 Students per class.
Course Content	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Basics of the legislation, history, the act and the regulations, and defined legislated responsibilities.• The Classification System, nine classes of dangerous goods and their associated hazards.• Shipping names, classes, UN Number and packing groups for dangerous goods encountered on the job.• Information required on the shipping document.• The requirements regarding mixed loads, segregation of dangerous goods.• Choose proper means of containment.• Proper use of all equipment that is used in the handling, offering for transport and or transportation of dangerous goods.• Dangerous goods and ERAP's (Emergency Response Assistance Plans, Emergency Response and Reporting Requirements).
Course Length	The course length is approximately 4 hrs.
Course Completion	Haztech will provide each student with their own TDG Handbook and upon completion of the course Haztech will issue a wallet size certification card the same day.
Employer Responsibilities	The Occupational Health and Safety Act, 1993 and The Occupational Health and Safety Regulations, 1996 Section 19(1) An employer shall ensure that a worker is trained in all matters that are necessary to protect the health and safety of the worker. 19(2) The training required by subsection (1) must include: 19(2)(a) procedures to be taken in the event of a fire or emergency.

www.haztechsafety.com

Email: training@haztechsafety.com

Toll Free: 1-866-919-9114

“The New Standard In Safety”